Getting Auction Items Is Easy...All You Need Is a Plan, And Some Ideas

It’s as Easy as 1, 2 3!

1. The People: Make a list of EVERYONE you know. Start by writing down the names of all of your family, then your friends, then your co-workers, your neighbors, the people who work where you shop, everyone. Don’t forget the people you play golf with, or tennis, or go jogging or hiking with. Test your list by answering this question: “If I got a call from this person and they needed help, would I give it willingly?” If “yes”, they go on the list! Don’t leave ANYONE out.

2. The Items: Review the suggestions on this list of great auction items. Add your own ideas as well. Be creative! Items which have emotional impact are the best sellers.

3. The Match Game: After you make your list of people (you should easily be able to list 20 to 30 people or more), begin the process of “matching” the items on the following pages to the people. Make the match by putting the letter and item number next to the person on your list MOST LIKELY able either to donate the item, or perhaps able to help you get the item from a third party.

After your list is complete, start calling, emailing, texting, etc. each of the people on your list. Ask them if they would be willing to help you and help others by supporting your auction. All they need to do to help is simply agree to donate the suggested item, or something comparable, or help you approach a third party to ask for an item. This process, called “networking”, is the best way to get auction items without ever “cold calling” on strangers. You will only be dealing with friends and family, and they are already people who would want to help you, if they only knew how. And with your list, you can tell them HOW they can help!

Some tips to make your job easier:

- Be specific about what you want donated
- Ask for what you want, then take what you can get
- Ask for the bigger items first – don’t limit yourself by thinking small
- Remember, your friends and family WANT to help, they just need to know HOW
- Do the “paperwork” for the donor – don’t ask them to fill out any forms! Just have them sign the completed form after you filled it out

Remember:
• Use consignment items sparingly! Use to kick-start procurement
• Get consignments underwritten whenever you can
• Think unique!
• Ask for the bigger items first
• Take whatever you can get
• Don’t be afraid to ask EVERYONE you meet
• Use the “peel the onion” technique
• Ask all those who ask you for help (return the favor!)
• Carry a procurement form with you everywhere
• Take extra forms with you on vacation (hotels, restaurants)
• Search your checkbook or online accounts for ideas
• Write down what YOU would buy, and then go find it!
• Don’t think small: bigger items are often easier to get
• Try to get at least one item each week – make it fun!
• Turn the items in as soon as you get them to eliminate the last minute “crunch”
• Remember, every item you get adds value to the event.
• Get new items only, except for real antiques, used cars

"Peel the onion" from the inside

You
Family
Friends
Co-workers
Others (check your check-book!)

Start on the inside of the “onion”, and peel it from the inside out. The closer to you, the better the contact, and the greater the chance you will hear “yes” when you ask for an item. Your contacts want to help you. They just need to know how. YOU are why they will donate, so don’t be afraid to ask everyone you know.
